Mid-Year Loyalty Fund Report Shows $10,290

A total of $10,290 has been given to the 1963-64 Lenoir Rhyne Loyalty Fund, according to a report compiled by the Alumni Office on Jan. 8.

The sum represents gifts from 539 alumni, or 6.1 percent of the total number of alumni on the mailing list.

The average alumnus gift at that time was $18.58.

Four different classes share honors in the areas of competition. The Class of 1932 leads in total gifts with a sum of $549, followed closely by the Class of 1925 with $533. However, the Class of 1917, with an average gift of $155.67 has a commanding lead in that division.

The Class of 1947 has the largest number of donors (22), but has only a one-donor lead over the Class of 1948. Meanwhile, the Class of 1914 has taken the lead in the percentage of response with a 64.3 percent mark.

A full report, showing the response by classes, is printed on page 4.

The Loyalty Fund, which began July 1, will continue until the close of the Alumni Association fiscal year on June 30.

Black '50, vice-president; and Mrs. Norma Litaker Mosley '63, secretary-treasurer.

The retiring officers are J. W. McGee, Jr., '41, president; Mr. Troxler, vice-president; and Mrs. Adelaide Ridenhour Cline '45, secretary-treasurer.

Fifty alumni and guests were present to hear Prof. Kenneth B. Lee of the college music faculty speak. Greetings from the college were extended by Jeff Norris, director of alumni affairs.

Professor Lee was introduced by Mrs. Christine Browning Lafferty '41. Richard Simpson '55 presented the report of the nominating committee, and the Rev. T. C. Plexico '48 asked the invocation.

Lenoir Rhyne Receives $30,000 Foundation Gift

Lenoir Rhyne is the recipient of a $30,000 gift from the Mary Reynolds Babcock Foundation of Winston-Salem.

The gift to Lenoir Rhyne's Fund for Progress was announced in December by Dr. A. Hollis Edens, executive director of the foundation, following a meeting of the foundation trustees.

It will be used for the construction of a $255,000 addition to the Carl A. Rudisill library on the college campus.

The donation is the second foundation contribution to the Lenoir Rhyne library project. Earlier a gift of $100,000 was donated by the Carl A. Rudisill Foundation, given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Borland of Salisbury and Mrs. Carl A. Rudisill of Cherryville.

The proposed library addition will expand the book capacity of the building from 50,000 to 136,000 volumes and double the seating capacity of the study areas. A reserve-book reading area will be added, and the periodical and reference rooms will be expanded. Administrative office space in the building will also be enlarged.

The Babcock gift increases the Fund for Progress receipts to $1,580,000. In addition

Approved by AAUW

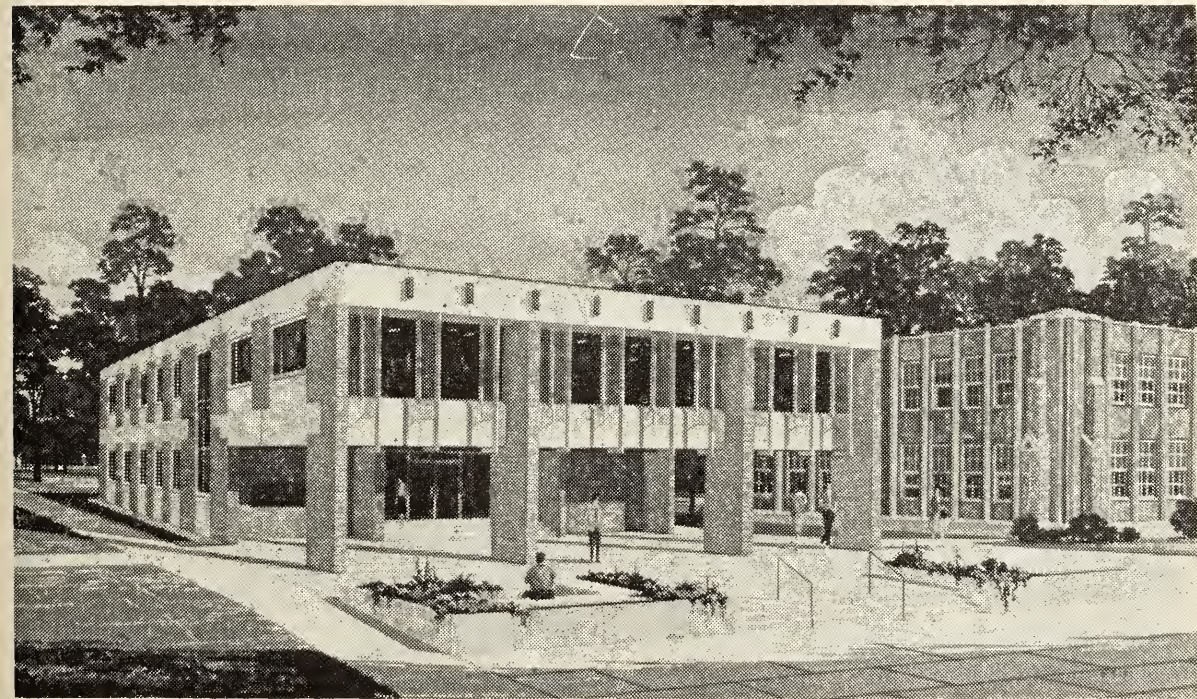

Lenoir Rhyne has been designated a qualified institution of the American Association of University Women, it was announced recently by Dr. Voigt R. Cromer, president of the college.

The action recognizing Lenoir Rhyne was taken by the AAUW Board of Directors and announced by Dr. Blanche H. Dow of Washington, D. C., president of the association.

In announcing the recognition, President Dow stated that women graduates of Lenoir Rhyne, including those who graduated prior to the recent action, are now eligible for membership in the AAUW.

to the library expansion, the development fund provides for the construction of a women's dormitory and administrative office building, expansion of the athletic field facilities and growth in the endowment fund.

The dormitory was erected in August, and work on the office building is slated to begin shortly. The construction schedule for the library addition and the athletic field will be announced at a future date.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES at Lenoir Rhyne will be moved into this new two-story building scheduled for construction this year. A building contract totaling $290,000 has been awarded Guy Frye & Sons of Hickory, and groundbreaking ceremonies for the structure have been planned for Feb. 6. The campus addition, made possible by a gift from the Lineberger Foundation of Belmont, will be situated on the quadrangle drive near the Rhyne Administration building, shown at right in the drawing above.

CONRAD HALL, erected adjacent to Fritz Hall and opened on the Lenoir Rhyne campus last September, has been named in honor of Dr. F. L. Conrad, former president of the United Evangelical Lutheran Synod of North Carolina. The building was the first construction project resulting from the $1.5 million Fund for Progress campaign conducted among Lenoir Rhyne constituents last spring.

New Dormitory Honors F. L. Conrad

Lenoir Rhyne has named its new dormitory for women in honor of Dr. F. L. Conrad, former president of the United Evangelical Lutheran Synod of North Carolina.

The building was designated Conrad Hall by the board of trustees during their fall meeting on the campus in October.

The name was voted in recognition of Dr. Conrad's "long service as secretary and president of the Lutheran church in North Carolina and his support of all causes of the College over the years."

Dr. Conrad, now retired and living at Kure Beach, served as full-time president of the synod from 1949 through 1962. Prior to his election, he served as the synod's secretary for 12 years.

He was a trustee of Lenoir Rhyne for 30 years. First elected to the board in 1933 by the synod's convention, he was continuously re-elected to the post until he assumed the synod presidency and thereby became an ex-officio member.

A native of Davidson county, he graduated from Lenoir Rhyne in 1916 and was awarded the honorary doctor of divinity degree by the college in 1941. His wife, the former Mary W. Huffman of Hickory, and his five children are also Lenoir Rhyne alumni.

The 108-resident dormitory was constructed adjacent to Fritz Hall for women last year and opened in September. It was erected at a cost of $515,000; money given to Lenoir Rhyne's $1.5 million capital funds campaign last spring financed the project.

At their meeting, the trustees also re-elected four men to the executive committee of the Board: the Rev. Harry D. Hawthorne of High Point, vice-chairman; Dr. J. White Iddings of Albemarle, secretary; Leonard Moretz of Hickory, treasurer; and L. Dean Minges of Fayetteville, member-at-large.

(Pastor Hawthorne later resigned from the board when he assumed a new pastorate in New York. His successor has not been named.)

Other members of the committee, not subject to election this year, are Harry E. Isenhour of Salisbury, chairman; and Dr. Glenn R. Frye of Hickory and Robert R. Rhyne of Charlotte, members-at-large.

Frat Honors Seven

Five seniors and two faculty members were initiated into the Mu Sigma Epsilon honorary scholastic fraternity during annual ceremonies on the campus in December.

Membership, based on outstanding academic work, was granted Miss Gloria Ann Berry, English major from Hickory; Mrs. Joyce Moser Wilson, primary education major from Newton; Mrs. Carolyn Payne Elkin, commerce major from Hickory; Miss Donna George, pre-medicine major from Cumberland, Md.; and Miss Margaret Whittecar, English major from Salisbury.

Also initiated were two members of the music faculty, Miss Thelma Rast and Miss Helen Stahler.

Speaker for the event was Dr. George R. Whittecar of Salisbury, president of the North Carolina synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

20 Students Named To Who's Who Honor

Twenty Lenoir Rhyne students will be listed in the 1963-64 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

The only junior making the select group is the editor of the Lenoir Rhynean, Larry Yoder of Lincolnton.

Others are Jon Birkeli of Norway, class president during his junior year; Gerald Briggs of Lexington, president of Chi Beta Phi honorary science fraternity; Miss Rebecca Caddell of High Point, Homecoming queen; Sam DeVenney, Jr., of Carlisle, Pa., president of the senior class; and Miss Judy Davis of Kannapolis.

Also named were Miss Karen Dohrmann of Charlotte, president of the YWCA; Miss Carolyn Eleazer of Columbia, S. C., president of the Lutheran Student association; Miss Donna George of Cumberland, Md., head majorette; Miss Sandra Greene of Belmont, member of Kappa Delta sorority; and Miss Sylvia Irvine of Hagerstown, Md., president of the Music club.

The group also includes Miss Judy Lyerly of East Spencer and Miss Margaret Whittecar of Concord, co-editors of the Hacawa; Miss Mary Mauney of Roanoke, Va., former secretary of the student body; Jacob Mayer of Charlotte, vice-president of the cappella choir; and Mrs. Mary Rose Yoder Perry of Hickory, member of the choir.

Completing the group are Miss Carole Plonk of Kings Mountain, treasurer of the student body; Michael Pope of Monroe, co-captain of the football team; Terry Satterwhite of Asheville, president of the student body; and Doug Stowe of Mt. Holly, 1963 Homecoming chairman.

Receives Research Grant

Dr. David Y. P. Chou, head of the chemistry department at Lenoir Rhyne, has been awarded a grant to pursue advanced research work at the University of Kansas during the 1964-65 year.

The Petroleum Research Fund grant, valued at $8,050, was awarded by the American Chemical Society. The society awards two such grants annually.

Dr. Chou expects to use the grant to study the theory of the solubility of strontium chloride in acetic acid and water mixture. He will begin the work in September during a 12-month leave of absence from Lenoir Rhyne.

He began work on the subject in the summer of 1961 while engaged in research at the University of Kansas under a grant awarded by the National Science Foundation.

LR Students Win New Event, But Must Replay

Lenoir Rhyne was one of four Tar Heel institutions progressing this month into the second round of the new North State Student Government College Bowl — but then the officials decided to start over.

The bowl, patterned after the General Electric College Bowl of television, was instituted last fall by the North State Student Government association among member institutions.

Lenoir Rhyne was paired against Elon for the first round and defeated the Christians 310-255.

Before second-round pairings were announced, officials discovered that all first-round matches had not been scored in the same manner and declared the first-round competition "experimental".

The new round will begin in late February with Lenoir Rhyne meeting Western Carolina.

Five students — four panelists and one alternate — represent Lenoir Rhyne in the competition by virtue of their selection by the college faculty. The students are Gerald Briggs of Lexington, Miss Sylvia Irvine of Hagerstown, Md., Wayne Preslar of Hickory, Terry Satterwhite of Asheville, and Larry Yoder of Lincolnton.

Other colleges competing in the program are Catawba, High Point, Guilford, Atlantic Christian and St. Andrew's.

Debaters Rank High In Opening Contests

Varsity debaters at Lenoir Rhyne are looking forward to second-semester competition after compiling a 17-7 record in two first-semester tournaments.

The debaters broke even in their first outing at the Peach Tree tournament in Atlanta in early November. The affirmative team of Billy Mauney of Fayetteville and Ed Ketchie of Kannapolis walked away with four wins and two losses, and the negative speakers, Bill Fenimore of Norristown, Pa., and Steve Moore of Salisbury, won two and lost four.

Later in the month, however, the student speakers entered the annual Mountain State tourney at Boone and talked themselves into an 11-1 record.

Mauney and Ketchie, still teamed on the affirmative side, completed six rounds of debating without a loss to win the Affirmative Team award of the tournament.

Moose again debated the negative position, this time aided by Ronald Damm of Hagerstown, Md. They won five of their six debates and took second place behind

Two Professors Receive Grants

Two Lenoir Rhyne professors have been awarded research grants by the Piedmont University Center, the new Winston-Salem-based 16-college association of which Lenoir Rhyne is a member.

The two grants will finance research projects on the Lutheran campus in art and religion.

Prof. James H. Rash of the art department received a $450 grant to continue an "investigation of ceramic materials of the Carolina Piedmont for possible use in artware bodies."

Purpose of the study, begun by Professor Rash four years ago in South Carolina, is to determine if undeveloped clay deposits in combination with other native materials can be used to make artware bodies of aesthetic properties. The research will also examine the possible commercial production of the artware.

Dr. Reuben J. Swanson of the religion department received a $200 grant to continue his development of a Greek-English comparison of parallel Gospel materials in interlinear format. When completed, the paper would serve as a tool for research in the New Testament gospels and could be used as a text for college classroom use.

The art study is expected to take one year for completion; the Bible research, two years.

In each project, the Piedmont University Center and Lenoir Rhyne college will share in the cost of the grant. The funds provide for the purchase of materials and special equipment needed for the research projects.

The Lenoir Rhyne grants were among 20 grants recently awarded for the first time by the center. The grants, totaling $10,128, were divided among twelve member institutions.

Don't Forget The Loyalty Fund

A NEW SERVICE provided Lenoir Rhyne students in the Voigt R. Cromer College Center opened last year is the College Supply Store. The Store, managed by Mrs. E. J. Sox, carries a full line of textbooks and other school supplies, souvenir items with the Lenoir Rhyne insignia, and toiletries. It also serves as the campus post office for the college offices and all day and dormitory students.

Professorship Established

A professorship for the Lenoir Rhyne-Grace Hospital Department of Nursing has been established by the hospital board of trustees with funds from the estate of the late Arthur C. Chaffee of Morganton, it was announced this month by Dr. Voigt R. Cromer, president of Lenoir Rhyne.

Mr. Chaffee, who died Oct. 21 at the age of 87, served as president of the board of trustees of Grace hospital in Morganton for more than 20 years.

The hospital trustees created the memorial at their December meeting in Morganton in recognition of Mr. Chaffee's "giving freely and fully of his time, abilities, and his means" as a trustee.

He "always stressed high quality in all hospital matters and especially in nursing, technical, and related services to patients", the resolution stated.

The professorship, designated the "Arthur Cyrus Chaffee Professorship of Nursing", will provide the salary for the head of the nursing department. The position is currently held by Miss Frances Marion Farthing of the Grace hospital staff.

In announcing the professorship, President Cromer stated: "This professorship is a most appropriate memorial to one who gave so generously in leadership and support to Grace hospital and numerous other worthy causes. It will provide a continuing service in nursing education through the Lenoir Rhyne-Grace Hospital department. I am pleased that the first to hold the professorship will be Miss Frances Farthing, to whom much credit is due for her work in the establishment of our collegiate program of nursing education."

Mr. Chaffee became a trustee of Grace hospital 25 years ago when it was formed as a community hospital. He was serving his 21st year as president of the board at the time of his death.

It was in recognition of his leadership in the hospital's expansion and other community projects that he was named Morganton's Man of the Year in 1951.

He was a member of the board and former president of the Edgar Tufts Memorial Association which operates Lees-McRae college, Grandfather Home for Children, and Cannon Memorial hospital at Banner Elk. The A. C. Chaffee Center on the college campus was erected in his honor.

He was also an elder of the First Presbyterian church and at the time of his death was chairman of its trustees.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Chaffee moved to Morganton in 1905 to join Morganton Furniture company which he served as the company's board chairman until the company merged with Drexel Furniture company in 1956 and he became a member of the Drexel board.

He was also chairman of the board of
